a boy sings a beautiful thing boychoirs org but is it what kinds of boy singing what kinds of music and to whom martin ashley presents a unique consideration of boys singing that shows the high voice to be historically culturally and physiologically more problematic even than is commonly assumed through ashley's extensive conversations with young performers and analysis of their reception by peer audiences the research reveals that the common supposition that boys don't want to sound like girls is far from adequate in explaining the missing males syndrome that can perplex choir directors the book intertwines the study of singing with the study of identity to create a rich resource for musicians scholars teachers and all those concerned with young male involvement in music through singing the conclusions of the book will challenge many attitudes and unconsidered positions through its argument that many boys actually want to sing but are discouraged by a failure of the adult world to understand the boy mind ashley intends the book to stand as an indictment of much complacency and myopia with regard to the young male voice a substantial grant from the arts and humanities research council has enabled the production of a multi media resource for schools choirs and youth organizations called boys keep singing based on the contents of this book the resource shows how once the interest of boys is captured in primary schools their singing can be sustained and developed through the difficult but vital early secondary years of ages 11 14 about which this book says so much the resource is lavishly illustrated by short films of boys singing supported by interviews with boys and their teachers and a wealth of of animated diagrams and cartoons it is available to schools and organizations involved in musical education through registration at boys keep singing com in search of the whip poor will love song takes the author charles brookins taylor sr on a journey using characters that represent three different generations in the search for the meaning of the whip poor will song through the combination of searching observing reminiscing and dialoguing with others he shows how the whip poor will song underscores what is said in psalm 19 1 the heavens declare the glory of god a reminder that each creature or thing in god s creation has been given the innate ability to accomplish an ordained purpose in relating to him and others each in its own unique way taylor draws upon the scriptures to remind us that god speaks to us through his visible and invisible creation which tells us that although the spiritual realm transcends the physical realm it permeates and operates within it taylor also shows us how god is using the whip poor will as a conduit to proclaim a message to us that his love is unconditional and unfailing and likewise he wants to use us to do the same in a world that often seems to be filled with hate selfishness and discord you may find yourself wondering what has become of our love for one another in search of the whip poor will love song s story will help us to know that every creature or thing of god has been given the ability to speak love to us each in its own language each in its own unique way each with its own dance may we all remember that god has given each of us and all his creation the ability to proclaim his love and his glory and when we allow this to happen our life will begin to have purpose peace happiness and joy knowing that god s love for us is really real newfoundlanders have long and lustily sung their folksongs and the tradition remains strong today despite modern influences the old songs persist mixed with new songs that are composed to record the events of our time this is the first major collection of newfoundland folksongs compiled and edited by native newfoundlanders it concentrates on songs of local composition largely ignored by earlier collectors and presents a significant number of songs never before published for most of the last decade lehr and best have been travelling around the island recording the voices and favourite songs of anyone young and old who would perform recordings took place in family kitchens on stage heads and in trap stores while the singer knitted twine or repaired lobster pots aboard ships at anchor or en route to some small deserted harbour humming engines blowing oilstoves or clattering supper dishes provided accompaniment the 120 songs collected here by lehr and best have been transcribed by pamela morgan and illustrated by elly cohen some recall the distant past of a long and rich seafaring tradition others tell of such recent tragedies as the displacement of outport people and the sinking of the ocean ranger the selection represents the state of the folk song in newfoundland today in some part it documents what is lost and forgotten but it also celebrates what has survived and
