sociology of deviance differences tradition and stigma is dedicated to a sociological analysis of deviance a term reframed to imply differences deviance is approached from the outset as meaning differences differences in attitudes behaviors lifestyles and values of people the terms of deviance or of deviant behavior are understood as labels themselves and are used sparingly such as in the title and in chapter 14 of elite and power deviance. The term of deviance appears with frequency in the theory chapters since it is a term used by the theorists addressed. Part of the title of the text is of tradition meaning traditional topics are covered such as suicide, mental disorders and physical disabilities, addictions and substance abuse and use, criminal behaviors and sexual behaviors and differences. The book has one chapter devoted to criminal behaviors with emphasis placed on violent and property offenses. The term of stigma appears in the title for two reasons: it is to honor the contributions of Erving Goffman to the study of differences and it is used to accentuate the importance of societal reaction to attitudes, behaviors, lifestyles and values that are varied and different in a heterogeneous society. Nowhere is this more evident than in chapter 12 of societal reaction and stigmatization, mental disorders and physical disabilities.

In counseling addicted families, Gerald A. Juhnke and William Bryce Hagedorn recognize that even those treatment providers who understand the importance of the familial context of addiction are often stymied by the variety of family treatment theories and their often imperfect fit for cases of addiction. In this book, Juhnke and Hagedorn provide a truly integrated model for assessment and treatment based upon the authors' combined twenty-three years of experience in clinical and treatment supervision. The integrated family addictions model consists of six progressive treatment tiers which organize the relevant family treatment theories into a graduated and coherent sequence beginning with the briefest and least costly forms of therapy.

The scope includes behavioral addictions such as eating disorders, gambling and compulsive shopping.
